AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

Docket No.: A8130.0140/P140

- 2. (Original) The method of claim 1, wherein the implant is formed of hydrogel.
- (Original) The method of claim 2, wherein the hydrogel implant is secured into the recipient socket by disposing a suture net around the implant.
- 4. (Original) The method of claim 2, wherein the hydrogel implant is provided with a perforated surface to secure the implant in the recipient socket.

Application No. 10/665,152 Docket No.: A8130.0140/P140 Reply to Office Action of July 5, 2006

5. (Original) The method of claim 1, wherein the implant is formed of metal.

- (Original) The method of claim 1, wherein the step of inserting the implant comprises loading the implant into a delivery tube and delivering the implant by hand into the recipient socket.
- 7. (Canceled)
- 8. (Currently Amended) The method of claim 1, wherein the set of implants comprises a plurality of cylindrically shaped plugs, each plug having opposing ends provided with an articular surface, each articular surface having opposing surfaces of the implants have a different contour from each the other.
- 9. (Currently Amended) The method of claim 1, wherein the set of preformed of implants comprises at least two synthetic hydrogel implants, each implant having a different diameter.

Claims 10-13. (Canceled).